

POPS ARE COMING

WICHITA IS CHOSEN FOR APPEL-LATE COURT CONVENTION.

No Date Fixed Yet—Dennison Is Conceded the Nomination—Many of the Hutchinson Delegates Visit Wichita and Talk More Freely of Politics—Lewelling Is Undoubtedly the Favorite in the Governorial Race—John Bridenbath has a Different State Fixed With Harris at the Head.

Wichita has been agreed upon for the Populist convention to nominate a judge for the appellate court. While the place was decided upon the date was not and as yet nobody can tell when it will be with any degree of accuracy. From what could be learned among the delegates to the Hutchinson convention there is scarcely a doubt but what Judge Dennison will be the nominee of the party for the position.

A great many Populists were in the city yesterday returning from Hutchinson. Nearly all the delegates from the southwestern part of the state stopped off here. Stop-off privileges had been given them by the Frisco and Missouri Pacific. They had heard so much about Wichita that they wanted to see the place and it is unnecessary to say that they were well pleased.

A reporter for the Eagle talked with a great many of them and they were freer in their expression on politics than they were at Hutchinson, embarrassed as they were there by the usual convention combinations. The special correspondence to the Eagle from the Hutchinson convention indicated that L. O. Lewelling was stronger with the masses of the Populists than any other man talked of as a candidate for governor. The correspondence to the other metropolitan papers indicated the reverse.

The statements of the Eagle correspondent were verified yesterday by talks with the visiting delegates. Nearly every one predicted that Mr. Lewelling would be elected. The statements of the Populist delegates seemed to favor Harris of Leavenworth county and he was the only prominent exception. Senator Kelly is one of the politicians himself, however, and is a close and warm personal friend of John Bridenbath, who is opposed to Mr. Lewelling. The fact is that Chairman Bridenbath and all the committee are against the nomination of Mr. Lewelling for some reason which is not clear to anybody but themselves. It is thought that Mr. Lewelling would not conform or agree to certain methods they wanted to use in the campaign of two years ago. Then, again, John Bridenbath has schemes and ambitions of his own which, in his opinion, would be better served if Mr. Lewelling was not nominated for governor. Mr. Bridenbath's ticket is Lewelling for congressman in the Seventh district, Jerry Simpson for congressman-at-large, Harris of Leavenworth for governor and John Bridenbath for United States senator. Mr. Bridenbath knows that it would be in the interest of his ambition to have a complete fusion and, therefore, he is a Democrat and to promote and accomplish this he deems it necessary to have Harris for governor and Jerry Simpson for congressman-at-large. These two men, he thinks, are closer to the Democrats than any other two Populists of prominence in the state.

John Bridenbath's further idea is that it would be a clever thing to get these three men located in the same high way than that which leads to the United States senate.

Walter Costigan, the brains of Ed Snodgrass' paper, is for Mr. Lewelling strong. He says he is personally very friendly to Mr. Harris and politically very friendly to him as a candidate for any other office except governor. Costigan has figures and statistics and uses them to show that Lewelling is the strongest Populist in the state for governor. He thinks the party's defeat two years ago was on account of the woman's suffrage plank and attributes to it the large excess of Democratic votes to the Republican party. He has figures at his finger tips to prove this and by them he silences the mutterings that the Populist ticket was defeated on account of the weakness of Governor Lewelling's administration.

There seems to be a hint also going the rounds of the Populists that Mr. Lewelling is too backward in making promises to suit the office seekers. The supposition is that that is the reason there are so many candidates for office in this neighborhood. Senator King of Cowley has been sprung for governor, Senator Porter of Sumner for the same office, Lyman Naugle of Wellington for secretary of state, Judge McKay of Harper for appellate judge, Harry Landis of Barber for congress, Jerry Simpson of Barber for congressman-at-large, Colonel Taylor of Wichita for congress, Judge Bashore of Kingman for congress and Brown of Kingman and Taylor of Pratt for other offices. This political nest of candidates has been set down here within a radius of fifty miles of Wichita and for what? Some say that it is for the purpose of weakening governor Lewelling; others say it is for the purpose of getting them in order that some one may get them off on contract of an office in advance from Mr. Lewelling. It is used to be that the man who staid in the middle of the road was the surest of getting an office; now in order to have a chance on an office it is safer to be in a position to get entirely off the road at a certain point. Mr. Lewelling's friends say that the politicians are doing everything possible to embarrass him and cite these facts to prove their statements.

That there is a terrible strong combination against Lewelling there is no doubt at all, but they may not be able to accomplish their purpose. As one of the delegates from Miami county said last night "that terrible and long continued hurrah for Lewelling that went up from the body of the convention Wednesday, scared the politicians."

It certainly did indicate that the rank and file of the Populist party are for Lewelling and he doubtless knew it, for he was a cute smile and his eyes twinkled knowingly while the demonstration of enthusiasm was going on.

CITY IN BRIEF

Henry Forby leaves today for Dubuque, Iowa, where he has accepted a position.

W. H. Kelleher of Kansas City is in the city on business and visiting his old time friends.

Fruit is still reported to be safe and the promise for a bountiful yield was never better.

The chain gang were engaged yesterday in cleaning up the alley north of Douglas avenue.

George Lindsay had the misfortune to sprain his ankle yesterday by jumping off of an electric car while in motion.

The new headquarters of the Frisco will be made one of the best equipped offices in the city for freight business.

The traveling inspectors and railroad magnates of the Frisco road will probably arrive in the city by Saturday next.

From present appearances there will be less than one-third of the voters of the city registered when the books are closed.

It is calculated that 5,000 persons stopped yesterday to inspect the Boston outfit in the window at the High-ton store.

The separation of the Frisco and Santa Fe yesterday was not only a theme of conversation, but the subject of much rejoicing.

Mrs. Lease appears to be meeting with remarkable success in her lecture tour throughout Oklahoma. She was at Oklahoma City Wednesday night.

J. M. Wright, age 21, and Maggie Parker, age 20 of Bayview, were granted the necessary documents of authority yesterday to become man and wife.

Parson Sim leave today for Pittsburg, Kan., where he will conduct a series of meetings. He is still unable to use his arm which was injured by being thrown from his buggy.

The tubing for the gas well arrived yesterday and is being put down and work will again be resumed today. The city engineer hopes to reach sea level by the last of the week.

T. F. Hart, who resigned a few days ago as a nominated candidate for the council, says that he is not a Prohibitionist, as stated by the opposition party organs and workers.

The city assessors are required to ask an unusual number of questions this year, but the Fifth ward has passed through with the ordeal and the rest of the city will have to fall in line.

County Attorney Davis says he expects to take a vacation by next week, as Mr. Davis has agreed to entertain two ministers during conference, and he will be in the role of a brother-in-law.

A Topeka dispatch says that letters from overland routes of the state and from scientific societies throughout the country are being received by Governor Morrill, asking that Anderson Gray be pardoned for the crime of hypnotizing McDonald.

The case of Mrs. Stalling vs. the city of Wichita was argued in the district court yesterday on a motion for a new trial. It was believed last night that a number of the jurors would be called upon to give testimony as to how they arrived at the verdict.

David Ross was yesterday appointed receiver of the firm of Huse, Charlton & Co., at the request of the members of the firm which was composed of E. A. Huse, C. Charlton, C. C. Dunn and T. Huxford. There seems to be no doubt as to the solvency of the firm.

John A. Wallace is assisting City Assessor Caldwell in making the assessment of the city. John is a hot hand when it comes to going through the books at the court house, and he can get around the delicate questions as easily as a French dancing master.

Prof. Sanford and family will play two quartets on four horns at the Unitarian church services in the Crawford Grand opera house Sunday evening. This will include the beautiful old song, "Hosanna in the Cradle of the Dead." The Childs family will sing "Harvest Time Has Passed Away."

J. A. Richards has returned to his home at Garrison, Ia., after a pleasant week's visit with his brother and uncle. He is much pleased with the city and surrounding country and will return as soon as he can close out his business, and engage in business with his brother at 133 North Main street.

Mrs. Billman, mother of Mrs. Henry Schnitzer and Henry Billman, received a stroke of paralysis last night and at a late hour was reported to be lying in a very critical condition at her residence near the corner of Lawrence avenue and Third street. She was in her usual health yesterday and was taken very suddenly.

SORRY FOR JOHN MARTIN
Once a Leading Citizen and Lawyer Humiliated by His Ambition.

A gentleman who saw John Martin in this city day before yesterday describes him in the most pathetic language as an exemplification of the ruinous principle of permitting politics to interfere with business. "I used to know John Martin very well in the days of his glory," he said, "and when I saw him this time I felt sorry for him. Just think of it: Martin is a man who had a high position in the politics of the state and people went to him to request him to be a candidate. Now he comes down to the people begging that they honor him with a position that would be tendered to him on a silver server only a few years ago. During the intervening time he has been a United States senator but came out a smaller man than when he went in. Greatness is a very fleeting thing. John Martin is now a castaway politician scarcely in touch with anybody. He is practically a stranger in the courts where he once sat and presided at all because of his ambition to be a politician. It is my opinion that in a few years more he will be forgotten entirely and allowed to grow aged, crusty and rusty like so many men who have sacrificed their natural occupations and professions to become politicians and statesmen. In personal appearance he shows that he is not prosperous and even the general manner that once characterized him are going fast. If he had let politics alone he would still be a prominent man and always an honored and flattered citizen."

DEATH OF DR. WHITLOCK
Ivy Leaf Chapter Passes the Customary Resolutions of Condolence.

Ivy Leaf Chapter No. 75, O. E. S., at the last regular meeting, March 17, passed the following resolutions: "Whereas, the angel of death having again entered our Chapter and removed from our midst our brother and past patron, Dr. E. A. Whitlock, "Resolved, That in his death our Chapter has lost an honored member and his family a loving husband and father, and we sympathize with the widow and fatherless in their affliction and tender to them such consolation as our fraternal order is able to give.

"Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of our deceased brother; that they be spread upon the records of this Chapter and forwarded to the city papers for publication."

COMING LOCAL EVENTS.
There will be a called meeting of the Woman's Unitarian society at the residence of Mrs. Sankey, 536 North Lawrence avenue, on Friday afternoon in arrangement for a "Cascara Throwing" in connection with an Easter entertainment.

IT WILL MEET HERE

METHODIST ANNUAL CONFERENCE CONVENES NEXT WEEK.

Wichita Will be Called Upon to Entertain Almost 500 Guests for a Week—The Venerable Bishop Andrews Will Preside—Methodist Brethren From Far and Near Will be Here—This Conference Will Elect Delegates to the General Conference to be Held in May—Program for Each Day.

On Wednesday, March 25, the South-west Kansas Methodist conference will meet in this city at the First M. E. church with Bishop Andrews presiding. The territory included in the South-west Kansas conference of the M. E. church is that part of Kansas lying west of Greenwood county and south of Russell county. Up to 1882 this territory was a part of the South Kansas conference, when the conference was divided. The first session of the South-west Kansas conference was held in Winfield, Kan., March 8, 1883, Bishop W. L. Harris presiding.

In that year there were fifty-eight ministers and 3,807 church members. There are forty-six churches and thirty-seven parsonages, 102 Sunday schools. While the figures for the present conference in the hands of Rev. E. C. Beach, who is conference secretary, show that, without this year's report, there are at the present time 125 ministers, 25,756 church members, 183 churches, eighty-two parsonages and 241 Sunday schools.

It must not be supposed that because there are only 125 ministers that they will be the only member present, for this amount would only make about one-third of the number who always attend and take part in the conference exercises.

According to the rules of the Methodist church every four years representatives from the churches meet at the same place with the purpose of electing delegates to the general conference, which meets every four years. This year these representatives meet with the ministers in Wichita.

This will make something over 500 guests to be entertained by the citizens of Wichita and it is said that the poultry market is already very strong with an upward tendency.

The following program has been prepared for the week:

WILL BE AN ECLAT AFFAIR
Event of Great Social Importance at the Auditorium Tonight.

The annual traveling men's ball will take place in the Auditorium this evening and if the weather is favorable it will be far the swiftest and the most notable social event of the season. Invitations have been sent only to those who can contribute to the success of the event.

Sold at harmonious with the ball as a social function and not its success as a financial affair. Financial objects have not been thought of. The great trouble with quasi-public dances is that mercenary motives predominate in them. This has been avoided by the committee in charge of the ball this evening and hence this paper forebodes its great success.

The traveling men of Wichita propose to make their annual ball the great social landmark of every year. All the arrangements made are in harmony with this ambition. The Auditorium was opened with a traveling men's ball and it will always be remembered as one of the great social events of Wichita. The one tonight will exceed it in the splendor of the adornments, the pleasure of the entertainment and the prominence in society of people who will attend it.

The traveling men of all southern Kansas with their wives and sweethearts will be present and as their invitations have been extended to the elite of very city in the southwest a notable gathering of persons is expected. At home the dress-makers have been busy for weeks preparing costumes for this occasion. Some dresses will be worn that will be a cue to the lovers of fashion. The hall will be lovely with its decorations and the be of the finest kind. The grand march will be a revelation and it is not too extravagant to predict in advance that it will be the most interesting seen in Wichita for many days.

Wichita is the home of 300 traveling men—if not the home of all it is their commercial headquarters. They have here one of the largest councils of the T. O. orders in the world and by far the largest in the state. They are gentlemen who have done, and are doing, a great deal for the Poorer Princess of the Plains and the people of Wichita are ready and anxious to tender a recognition of their labors all the year round, but more especially when their annual social event occurs.

Those who have invitations to this function can consider themselves very fortunate and they will appreciate the fact more thoroughly if they attend.

The grand march will commence at the usual hour and the accommodations for the convenience and comfort of a large crowd are very complete.

LAW BUSINESS IS DECLINING
Lawyers Have a Very Blue Outlook Before Them Now.

How to make a living is the serious problem that confronts the large percentage of the lawyers of Wichita at the present time. It is occupying more of their attentions than are the great problems and policies of state and national government.

Over how the government is getting along financially, but are bothered over how they are to get along financially themselves. A group of them were talking seriously about the matter in the district court yesterday and all agreed that the future of the law business looks pretty dark and discouraging.

It is said that the district court clerk and talked with them while Stenographer Frank Dean and Bailiff Joe Furnish were also interested spectators and listeners. Everybody remembers how crowded the courtroom was four years ago with business. People thought there would be work ahead for five years. Instead of that the court is now practically idle and the law business doesn't seem to give Judge Dale any more than half his time unoccupied after the next term. Then again all the cases pending are little ones that do not involve more than $100 and many of them are not necessarily very small.

For days at a time there is not a case filed in the district court and that not only affects the lawyers but it materially affects the prosperity of the district clerk and his employees, the stenographers and bailiffs and the sheriff and his deputies. None of the officers connected with the court has any business and none of them is the snap that it used to be.

Lawyers all over the west have the same complaint. Judge Dale said that he has received letters from the justices of neighboring districts as well as some from other western states and that they all have observed the decline of the law business.

It is said that when the people prosper the law business is going in the other direction. If that is the case the people are prospering greatly.

More than any other business, the law business is also true of the local courts. The three justices of the city have not enough business on hand to keep one of them half way busy.

Petition for Anderson Gray's Pardon is Circulated in Summer County.

According to the Caldwell News the petition for Anderson Gray's pardon is being circulated and signed in Summer county in this city. In speaking of the case the Caldwell News says: "A strong effort is being made to secure from Governor Morrill a pardon for Anderson Gray, the Kansas penitentiary for complicity in the murder of David Patton at Conway Springs two years ago. The case attracted national attention from the fact that Gray was charged with having exercised the power of hypnotic suggestion over Tam McDonald, thus causing the latter to kill Patton. McDonald claimed to be the murderer and gained his liberty by testifying that he had hypnotized him and then influenced him to do the deed. McDonald has made an affidavit that he never falsified at the trial in Wellington. He now claims that he killed Patton of his own free will. Petitions to Governor Morrill and copies of this affidavit are being circulated throughout Kansas."

INNES IS HONORED

THIRD WARD REPUBLICANS TENDER HIM THE NOMINATION.

Being a Careful, Honest and Conservative Business Man the Influence of His Strength Will be Felt Throughout the Entire Ticket—Vote was Unanimous and the Honor Unsolicited—Registration is Very Slow So Far—Opposition Scheming to Capture a Few Offices for the Effect Victory Would Have.

Last night the Republican committee of the Third ward met and filled the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Hart with Mr. William Innes, the gentleman who so ably represented the Third ward in the city council at present.

The committee were unanimous in their selection of Mr. Innes and made it in obedience to the desire of representative business men who have long since recognized the work of Mr. Innes as a faithful representative of the business interests.

Mr. Innes is the senior member of the firm of Innes & Ross of North Main street. He was elected to the council two years ago. It was the first official position of a political nature that he ever held, but from the start he participated in all the doings and deliberations of the council and of course he has done better work. He filled two or three of the important committees and he did the work assigned to him with as much care as if it was a part of his own private business.

In the council he has always been a most genial and courteous gentleman and is well liked by every member although he is outspoken and aggressive in whatever he believes to be right. There is no question about his election. Business men and progressive liberal and level-headed men of every party will vote for him. His nomination will help the entire ticket and he has a great many friends who will register in his interest.

Registration is now the thing to be considered. Compared with this time last year it is 40 per cent lighter than it has ever been. Of course there will be something like a fall registration but it will be slow in getting on the books. This is not right. There is no reason why people should wait for the last day and then crowd the clerk's office. Business is not altogether so rushing but what every man can take a few moments off to go to the City building and register. This should be especially the case with business men and taxpayers. They, especially, feel the necessity and importance of electing good men both in the council and the school board to the end that there shall be no squandering of the city funds but that every dollar shall be paid out in accordance with the contemplation of the law and in conformity with good business principles.

There will be a strong opposition ticket—strong in the sense that a terrible fight will be made for it. It will not be a businessman's or taxpayer's ticket, but it will be made to command the support of the local politicians to the end that if a part of it is elected it may encourage the contemplated fusion in opposition to the Republican ticket this fall.

It is very essential that all Republicans should register, not for the purpose of helping people into good offices as is usually the case in county elections but for the purpose of electing men to a position of trust who have the honesty and ability and the willingness to work for the best interests of the city, the schools and the taxpayers.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.
GRAND OPERA HOUSE.
The sale of seats for the Sol Smith Russell engagement begins this morning at 9 o'clock and the appearance of this great artist will take place at the opera house next Monday morning.

Mr. Russell is one of the strongest attractions that do honor to this city and there will probably be special interest in this engagement because his old admirers are anxious to see him in his new, and it is said, his greatest comedy, "An Every-day Man," and he will also appear in a new one act play called "Valentine's Christmas."

More than any other comedian on the stage, perhaps with the possible exception of Joseph Jefferson, he is able to get down into the heart of things to find the well-springs of genuine humor.

Probably no actor now before the public is more universally and deservedly admired both in his public and private character than is Mr. Russell. A keen and earnest student of odd characters. Every creation which he has made his own has been the result of long and careful study and observation of real life. His art is of the highest—the art that conquers art.

Sol Smith Russell occupies a unique position among players. He has a line in which he has neither competitors nor imitators. His style is so distinctly his own that it is almost impossible to find a second figure on the current stage. There is no apparent effort on the comedian's part to touch the hearts of his audience. There is no striving after effect. But in many of the scenes, tears come to the eyes of the audience almost before the smile had left their lips.

It goes without saying that a great audience will be at the theatre next Monday evening.
